Failure to comply may result in appropriate corrective or disciplinary action in accordance with applicable law.

13. Termination

The Employee may resign by providing one month's written notice, unless otherwise agreed in writing.

The Company may terminate employment for misconduct, breach of confidentiality, data-security violations, harassment, fraud, serious negligence, unauthorised disclosure, conflict of interest, insubordination or other sufficient cause, subject to applicable law and any legally required process.

Upon termination, all Company property, Confidential Information, data and access credentials shall be returned or surrendered immediately.

Termination shall not affect obligations that are intended to survive termination, including confidentiality, intellectual property, data protection, non-solicitation and return-of-property obligations.

14. Breach & Remedies

The Employee acknowledges that certain breaches of this Agreement, particularly relating to confidentiality, client information, data, intellectual property and unauthorised disclosure, may cause substantial harm to the Company or its clients.

In the event of a breach, the Company may take appropriate disciplinary and/or legal action and seek remedies available under applicable law, including recovery of proven losses and appropriate injunctive or other relief.

Nothing in this clause limits any statutory rights or remedies available to either Party.

15. Post-Employment Obligations

Following termination, the Employee shall:

- Maintain confidentiality of protected information;
- Return Company property and information;
- Stop representing themselves as an employee or representative of the Company;
- Stop using Company/client confidential information;
- Not use retained Company/client data for personal benefit;
- Comply with all surviving obligations under this Agreement.

Any restriction after employment shall apply only to the extent legally enforceable.

16. No Waiver

Failure by either Party to immediately enforce any provision of this Agreement shall not constitute a waiver of that provision or the right to enforce it later.

17. Severability

If any provision is found to be invalid or unenforceable, that provision shall be interpreted or limited to the maximum extent legally permissible, and the remaining provisions shall continue in effect.

18. Entire Agreement & Amendments

This Agreement constitutes the complete understanding between the Parties concerning the Employee's employment and supersedes prior agreements or understandings relating to the same subject matter.

Any amendment shall be made in writing and approved by both Parties.

19. Governing Law & Jurisdiction

This Agreement shall be governed by the applicable laws of India.

Subject to applicable law, disputes shall be subject to the jurisdiction of the competent courts at Nashik, Maharashtra.

20. Independent Legal Advice

The Employee confirms that they have been given a reasonable opportunity to read this Agreement carefully and obtain independent legal advice before signing it.

The Employee confirms that they understand and voluntarily accept the terms of this Agreement.

21. Acknowledgement

By signing below, both Parties acknowledge that they have read, understood and agreed to the terms of this Agreement and agree to comply with their respective obligations.
